

Press Release

The World's Leading Source for the Supply Chain Profession.

CSCMP Board of Directors Affirms 7 New International Roundtables

Lombard, IL – December 2024 – The Council of Supply Chain Management Professionals (CSCMP) Executive Board of Directors is proud to announce the successful launch of seven new International Roundtables, furthering its mission to advance supply chain excellence across the globe. The new Roundtables, established in strategic locations, include Mexico City, Monterrey, Guadalajara, Canada, Panama, Portugal, and Brazil. This marks a significant milestone in CSCMP's ongoing global expansion.

Expanding in Latin America Javier Zarazua, a key leader in CSCMP's Latin America initiatives, shared his excitement about the organization's growth in the region: "We are excited to announce that in early 2025, we will inaugurate CSCMP Roundtables in Mexico City and Monterrey. Our Guadalajara Roundtable was inaugurated in 2024. As part of our growth strategy, we have signed strategic agreements with The Logistics World, the largest logistics publishing company in Latin America; Tec Monterrey, one of the largest universities in Latin America; and Conalog, the association for Logistics Executives in Mexico."

Zarazua emphasized the value of these partnerships: "Not only will supply chain and logistics professionals benefit from these strategic agreements, but CSCMP, with our wealth of content, research, and network, will contribute to enhancing the industry not only in Mexico but across Latin America."

Welcoming Portugal to the CSCMP Network Miquel Serracanta, a prominent CSCMP global ambassador, highlighted the addition of Portugal to the organization's global network. "We're proud and delighted to welcome Portugal as our newest country, formally joining our global network with the creation of our local CSCMP Portuguese Roundtable. Our Roundtables are the backbone of our global footprint and the levers that we offer to our supply chain academics and practitioners for their career development and professional networking."

He added, "Please join us in celebrating this 10th European Roundtable and welcoming our Portuguese colleagues to our global community."

A Message from CSCMP's President and CEO, Mark Baxa Mark Baxa, President and CEO of CSCMP, commended the efforts behind these initiatives and their broader implications for the supply chain industry. "The launch of these seven Roundtables is a testament to CSCMP's commitment to advancing supply chain innovation and fostering professional growth globally. By extending our reach into Latin America, Canada and enhancing our European Union presence, and beyond, we're not just growing our community—we're strengthening the global supply chain network. This is how we equip the next generation of leaders and continue shaping the future of our industry."

About CSCMP The Council of Supply Chain Management Professionals (CSCMP) is the premier global association for supply chain management professionals. For over 60 years, CSCMP has provided networking, education, and career development opportunities to thousands of professionals worldwide.

For more information about CSCMP or to join one of our local Roundtables, visit www.cscmp.org.

Media Contact:

Gabriel Castillo

Head of Marketing, CSCMP

gcastillo@cscmp.org