

Press Release

The World's Leading Source for the Supply Chain Profession.

CSCMP Celebrates Milestone Success with LinkedIn Learning and 15,000 Supply Chain Certifications

Lombard, IL – February 18, 2025 - The Council of Supply Chain Management Professionals (CSCMP) proudly announces a remarkable achievement in its partnership with LinkedIn Learning, offering supply chain professionals a robust pathway for career advancement through the CSCMP Supply Chain Certificates program. To date, over 15,000 learners have successfully completed CSCMP certifications, marking a significant milestone in the program's success.

As the industry faces unprecedented changes, professionals and organizations alike are increasingly turning to continuous education to stay ahead of emerging trends and challenges. Since launching the program on LinkedIn Learning, CSCMP has seen a significant surge in engagement, with more than 15,000 learners completing certifications and acquiring cutting-edge skills in supply chain management. These certificates are designed to meet the demands of today's dynamic supply chain landscape, addressing critical areas such as logistics, procurement, inventory management, and global trade.

Driving Career Growth in Supply Chain Management

The collaboration with LinkedIn Learning enables CSCMP to deliver industry-leading content on a global platform, reaching a diverse audience across various sectors. This partnership has proven to be a game-changer for supply chain professionals seeking to deepen their expertise, improve operational efficiency, and drive innovation within their organizations. Through CSCMP's LinkedIn Learning pathway, participants are empowered to achieve certificates recognized by industry leaders, which validate their knowledge and position them for career advancement in an increasingly competitive marketplace.

"We are thrilled by the success of our LinkedIn Learning partnership and the impact it's had on the global supply chain community," said Mark Baxa, President and CEO of CSCMP. "Surpassing 15,000 certificates is a testament to the value of our certificate programs in empowering professionals to excel in their careers and navigate the complexities of the supply chain industry."

Empowering the Supply Chain Workforce of Tomorrow

CSCMP's Supply Chain Certificates cover foundational and advanced topics, making them suitable for both early-career professionals and seasoned experts looking to refine their skills. With modules focused on the latest innovations, learners are equipped with actionable insights that can be directly applied to their day-to-day operations, driving tangible results for their employers.

Moreover, the on-demand format of LinkedIn Learning allows participants to engage with the content at their own pace, providing a flexible solution for those managing busy schedules while pursuing professional development.

A Commitment to Supply Chain Excellence

As CSCMP continues to expand its offerings and impact, the organization remains committed to fostering a culture of lifelong learning and continuous improvement within the supply chain profession. The success of the LinkedIn Learning program underscores CSCMP's role as a leader in supply chain education and its unwavering commitment to supporting professionals in every stage of their careers.

About CSCMP The Council of Supply Chain Management Professionals (CSCMP) is the premier global association for supply chain management professionals. For over 60 years, CSCMP has provided networking, education, and career development opportunities to thousands of professionals worldwide.

For more information about CSCMP or to join one of our local Roundtables, visit www.cscmp.org.

Media Contact:

Gabriel Castillo

Head of Marketing, CSCMP

gcastillo@cscmp.org